

GOVERNOR PEN PORTRAITS – 2024-25

SUZANNE FINLAY
Chair

Suzanne is the Chair of Governors for Birches Head Academy, and is a recently retired secondary school Headteacher.

She started her teaching career as a primary school teacher for 9 years, and then moved to secondary education where she taught music. and then developed a wider interest in school leadership. After taking leading roles as Head of Year and Head of Sixth Form, Suzanne enjoyed her next 20 years as a senior leader in various schools across Wirral, St Helens, Warrington and Manchester. She completed her 38 year career as the inaugural Headteacher for 7 years of a brand new secondary school, close to the city centre of Manchester. She feels very privileged to have led a secondary school through its first years of growth in the heart of a vibrant multicultural community, and is extremely proud to have established such a successful and popular school for local children.

Suzanne has worked in several deprived areas as well as in an affluent school, and remains steadfastly passionate that all children should receive the very best quality of education, whatever their starting point in life.

GOVERNOR PEN PORTRAITS – 2024-25

Michelle McKenna
Parent Governor

I have lived in Stoke on Trent all my life and am myself a former student of Birches Head High School having attended from 1997 to 2002 gaining 9 GCSE's grades A* to B. I completed further education at Burslem Sixth Form Centre and went on to study Psychology at Staffordshire University, which reflects my interest in understanding human behaviour and fostering positive relationships.

I went on to work in the banking industry, which has equipped me with valuable skills in organisation, finance and decision making. However, I would say my true fulfilment comes from my role of a mother to three, two of whom currently attend Birches Head Academy, strengthening my commitment to the school's missions and values.

I am now currently working for the Esprit Multi Academy in a nearby school and my dedication to education extends beyond my own family as I strive to create a nurturing and supportive environment for all students to thrive. I became an influential figure at BHA playing a pivotal role in introducing a parent forum aimed at enhancing communication and collaboration between parents, teachers and the school administration. Through my own initiative and leadership, the parent forum has become a valuable platform for sharing ideas, addressing concerns, and promoting a sense of unity amongst staff, parents and students. My approach to parental involvement underscores my commitment to drive positive change and improve the educational experience for all students.

Miriam Chigodho
Parent Governor

Miriam is an Advocate for Holistic Education and Community Empowerment

Miriam is a devoted mother of two with a strong passion for effective learning and practical education. Having homeschooled her children for two years, she gained invaluable insights into their individual strengths, transforming her approach to parenting and education.

In her community, Miriam works with children in her church, focusing on those with learning difficulties. Her belief that every child can thrive fuels her commitment to provide tailored support. As a multi-entrepreneur and care professional, Miriam brings creativity and compassion to her roles. She also volunteers as an action coach facilitator in the Young Entrepreneurs Smart Start (YESS) program, empowering youth aged 12 to 22 to understand business principles with guidance from Brad Sugars. Her Christian faith influences her educational philosophy, guiding her belief that every individual is "fearfully and wonderfully made."

Through her diverse roles, Miriam stands out as a passionate leader dedicated to nurturing the next generation.
